

DJI AU — Warranty, DOA & Change of Mind Process

For Australian Retailers · Distributed by CR Kennedy (CRK) · ACL rights always apply

Australian Consumer Law (ACL) Always Applies

Major failure → consumer chooses

refund or replacement

| Minor failure → retailer may repair or replace within reasonable time

Retailers

cannot refuse

a consumer remedy solely because packaging or accessories are missing.

Customer presents a product — what is the situation?

CHANGE OF MIND

Conditions — ALL must be met:

- Within 30 days of purchase
- No physical or water damage
- Full, complete package returned
(unit, accessories, cables, manuals, box)

✓ Conditions met — Submit via DJI Portal:

repair.dji.com/au/repair/replacement

DJI AU provides a brand-new restock unit
(restock material only — no credit notes)

✗ Conditions NOT met:

DJI may decline restock material.

Note: If consumer has ACL rights, remedy must still be provided regardless of packaging condition.

FAULTY / DOA — WITHIN 30 DAYS

Applies when:

- Product is faulty or dead on arrival
- Within 30 days of purchase
- No customer-induced damage

★ Option A — Direct to DJI (Recommended — faster)

Store submits directly:
repair.dji.com/au/repair/replacement

Option B — Via CRK (Serial tracking required)

Return to CRK → CRK lodges via After-Sales Dealer Platform:
dealersystem-a.broad.dji.com

✓ Outcome:

DJI AU provides restock material
(restock material only — no credit notes)

DAMAGE PRESENT / AFTER 30 DAYS

Applies when any of the following:

- Physical damage present
- Water damage present
- Evidence of misuse
- Outside the 30-day window

✗ Not eligible for DJI dealer replacement

Direct the consumer to lodge a repair via the DJI repair portal:

repair.dji.com/au/repair

Consumer submits unit directly to DJI for assessment and repair quote.

⚖️ ACL Major Failure Exception:

If an independent assessment confirms a major failure not caused by the consumer, the consumer retains the right to choose a refund or replacement under ACL — regardless of the 30-day window.

 DJI Restock Eligibility (Dealer → DJI) — All 3 Must Be Met

- 1.

Within 30 days of purchase
- 2.

No customer-induced damage
- 3.

Full & complete package returned

 Key Reminders for Retailers

- ACL always applies to the consumer
— you cannot refuse a remedy because packaging or accessories are missing.
- DJI restock to dealer
requires full package return — this is separate from consumer ACL rights.
- Resale of activated units:
previous owner must unbind their DJI account first. If not possible, use the replacement process.
 - DJI AU provides restock material only — no credit notes issued
