Second-Hand Processing Guide-Bank Transfer

1. After opening POS, you will now find the Trade-In Console on the main function screen where the override rep code used to be displayed. Click this button to open the Trade-In Console.

2. Once the console is open, you will see the various statuses a trade-in can have, allowing you to check the status of trade-ins at any time.
3. To begin a new trade-in, click the "Entry" button at the top right of the console.

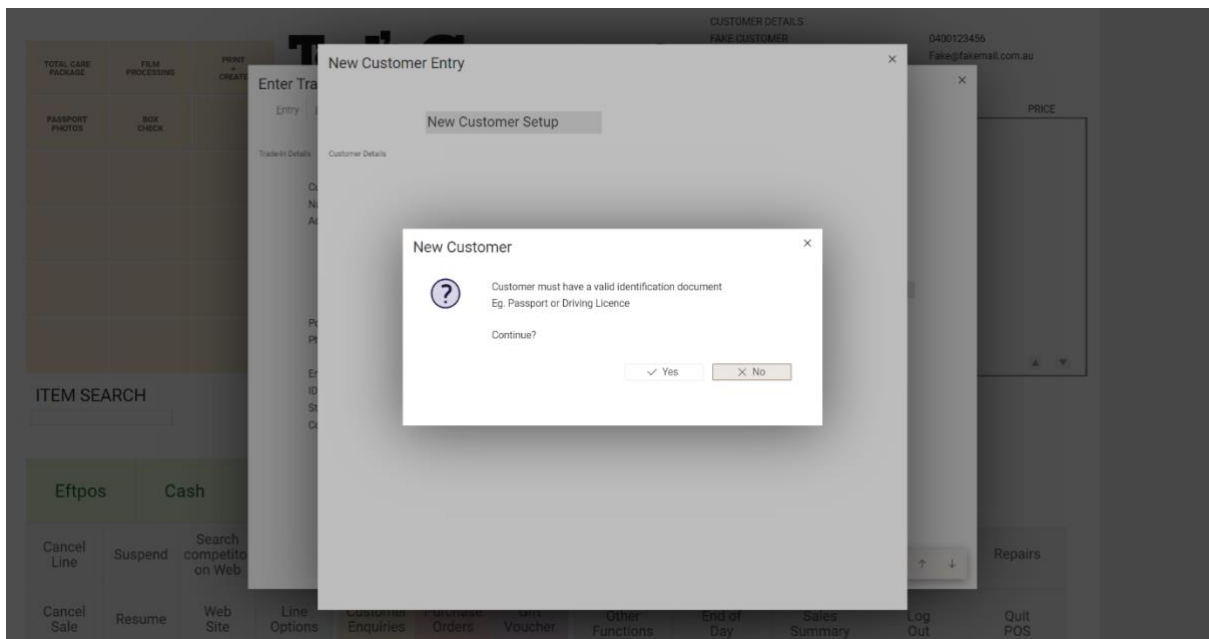

4. After clicking "Entry" on the initial console screen, a pop-up titled "Enter Trade-In Order" will appear. Click "Entry" in this field.

The screenshot shows the 'Enter Trade In Order' pop-up window. The window has a title bar with 'Enter Trade In Order' and a close button. Below the title bar are tabs: 'Entry' (selected), 'Lines', 'Exit', and 'Audit Enquiry'. A sub-header says 'Enter values on the screen'. The form is divided into two main sections: 'Trade-In Details' and 'Trade-In Processes'. 'Trade-In Details' includes fields for Customer Name, Address, PostCode, Phone, Email, ID Number, State, and Country. 'Trade-In Processes' includes fields for Trade In Type (set to 'Bank Transfer'), Warehouse (set to '3301'), Rep, Territory, PO No. (set to '0'), Trade In Status (set to '10'), Voucher, and Total Value (set to '0.00'). The background shows the main POS interface with various buttons like 'Cancel Line', 'Suspend', 'Search competitor on Web', 'Cancel Sale', 'Resume', 'Web Site', 'Line Options', 'Customer Enquiries', 'Purchase Orders', 'Gift Voucher', 'Other Functions', 'End of Day', 'Sales Summary', 'Log Out', 'Quit POS', 'Repairs', and 'PRICE'.

5. You will then proceed to the "Select Customer" section. If the customer is an existing Teds customer, click the magnifying glass (or use the keyboard shortcut F2) and use the keyword search to find their account. (If the customer isn't an existing customer, you will need to add them first.)

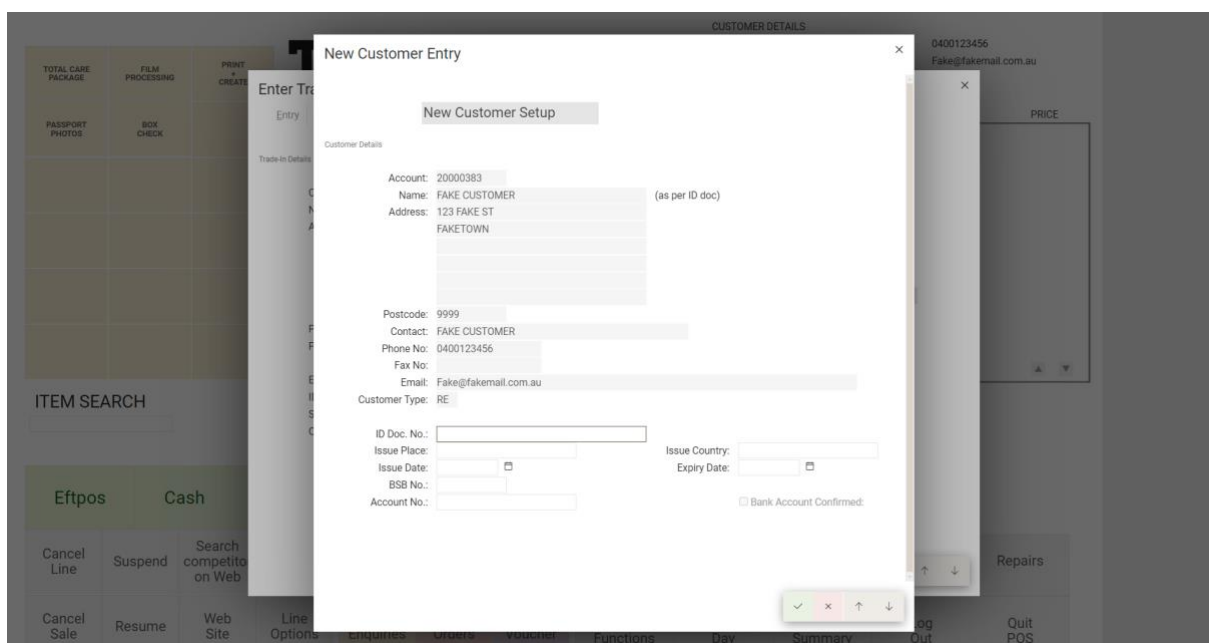

This screenshot shows the 'Enter Trade In Order' pop-up window with the 'Entry' tab selected. The 'Trade-In Details' section now includes a 'Customer' field with a magnifying glass icon and a 'Suggestions' button. The 'Trade-In Processes' section remains the same as in the previous screenshot. The background POS interface is visible, showing the same set of buttons as before.

6. Once you have found and selected the customer's account, a pop-up will appear. To continue, click "Yes." If the customer doesn't have a valid form of ID, you cannot proceed with the trade-in.

7. After selecting the customer, Pronto will load all of their current customer details.

8. You will need to add the customer's identification details and bank details. Not all states' identification types have an issue date; if the ID doesn't have this, you can leave the field blank. (It is essential to pay close attention when collecting the customer's banking details, as once these are added and processed, they cannot be accessed or changed without assistance from the finance team.)

9. After entering the customer's bank details, check the "Bank Account Confirmed" box, then click the tick box in the bottom right corner.

13. In the item code section, click the magnifying glass and use the keyword search to find and select the product.

14. After selecting the product, enter the serial number in the designated section. Double-check the serial number as changes to the serial number once processed require assistance from Alex or Rory.

15. Once you enter the serial number, Pronto will automatically populate the correct price, including GST, that we will offer. If we are accepting the camera for less than the maximum trade-in price, reduce the price accordingly. You can also add any additional notes in the "Information" section.

16. After completing these details, Pronto will move to the next line. Here, enter

18. From here, click "Next Action" in the top menu. First, click "Approve to Create Purchase Order."
19. A supervisor will need to log in and verify that the trade-in details are correct for the purchase order to be created.

20. Once a supervisor has approved, proceed to the next step.

21. Now, click "Enter Purchase Order." The purchase order will be automatically created in the backend of Pronto.

22. Pronto will display multiple pop-ups indicating that the purchase order is being created; you can press "Enter" through all of these.

23. Check the boxes for "Print Purchase Order" and "Purchase Order Goods Receipt."

24. After these have been selected, a copy of the purchase order will automatically print from your local printer. This purchase order should be given to the customer, as it serves as their document confirming our purchase of the goods.
