

TEDS CAMERAS & DCW BRAND SEPARATION POLICY

1. Purpose

This policy sets out the rules and responsibilities following Ted's Cameras' acquisition of Digital Camera Warehouse's (DCW) assets and intellectual property.

It is designed to:

- Maintain brand separation between Ted's Cameras and DCW.
- Ensure compliance with the Privacy Act 1988, the Australian Privacy Principles (APPs), the Spam Act 2003, and relevant consumer law.
- Protect customer trust by handling all data and communications lawfully, securely, and transparently.

All Ted's Cameras and DCW team members must follow this policy without exception.

2. Brand and Entity Separation

- Ted's Cameras has acquired DCW's assets and IP.
- DCW continues to trade under its own ABN, with its own marketing and promotional calendar.

Policy Requirement:

- Customers must not be misled into thinking Ted's and DCW are one company.
- Staff must only use the approved script when explaining the relationship:

"Ted's Cameras and DCW are part of the same buying group, but we operate as separate businesses with separate ABNs, systems, and customer databases."

Any deviation or improvisation is strictly prohibited.

3. Cross-Fulfilment and Packaging

- Orders may be dispatched across Ted's and DCW locations.

Policy Requirement:

- Picking slips, tax invoices, and return labels must reflect the selling entity.
- Ted's sales must use Ted's paperwork; DCW sales must use DCW paperwork.
- Staff must check packaging before dispatch to ensure no cross-brand marketing material is included.

4. Returns Management

- Ted's return addresses must follow the format: TCS – [Location] (e.g., TCS – Brisbane).
- DCW returns may arrive at Ted's stores.

Policy Requirement:

- Returned items must be accepted and processed per procedure to ensure redirection and avoid customer delays.

5. Customer Data, Direct Marketing & Consent

- Ted's and DCW customer databases remain completely separate.

Policy Requirement:

- Ted's cannot use DCW customer data for marketing, and vice versa.
- A DCW customer must provide fresh consent before receiving Ted's marketing.
- All marketing communications must provide an opt-out mechanism.

6. Privacy & Data Protection

Policy Requirement:

- Lock computer screens when unattended.
- Do not share logins under any circumstances.
- Store paper forms securely; never leave customer information exposed.
- Destroy physical customer information so it cannot be read, reconstructed, or recovered.
- Only provide customer documentation to the intended recipient, and confirm details with the customer at handover.

7. Breach Response

Under the Notifiable Data Breaches (NDB) scheme, incidents must be assessed within 30 days and reported to the OAIC/customers if there is a risk of serious harm.

Policy Requirement:

- Immediately escalate suspected or confirmed breaches to your Manager.
- Do not attempt to resolve issues independently or "quietly."
- Do not contact customers unless directed by Alex Meara or Rory Moore.

8. Escalation and Support

If uncertain about brand separation, privacy, or customer data obligations:

1. Stop.
2. Seek guidance discreetly from your Manager.
3. Escalate to the National Operations Manager if required.
4. Guesswork is not permitted.

9. Enforcement

Non-compliance with this policy may result in:

- Disciplinary action under company policy.
- Legal action where breaches contravene privacy, spam, or consumer law.
