

SALES PROMOTION POLICY

TEDS CAMERAS & DCW

Policy

Sales promotions at Ted's Cameras and Digital Camera Warehouse (DCW) provide employees with opportunities to win prizes, such as trips, products, accessories, or monetary incentives. This policy ensures that all participants act in accordance with the company's core values:

- Honesty & Integrity
- Loyalty & Fairness
- Teamwork
- Enthusiasm & Fun

As outlined in the Company's Vision, Values, and Code of Conduct.

Any manipulation, fraud, or dishonest behaviour during promotions will result in disciplinary action, which may include termination. The intent of these promotions is to ensure fair and equitable benefit to all employees and trading partners.

Procedures

Eligibility

- Staff must read and complete all eligibility criteria and relevant training modules before participating in sales promotions.
- Employees must comply with all promotion rules to remain eligible.

Booking Prizes

- Winners of trips or similar incentives must book leave using annual leave, accrued Time in Lieu, or Long Service Leave as appropriate.

Investigation of Violations

- Suspected breaches, including cheating or manipulation, will be investigated promptly.
- If an employee is unable to participate, the company reserves the right to select new winners.

Disciplinary Actions for Cheating

Employees who cheat, or assist others in cheating (e.g., by transferring or pooling sales), will face the following consequences:

- Disqualification from the current sales promotion.
- Disqualification from the related SPIV program for a minimum of one month.
- Disqualification from the current financial year's Super Achievers program.
- Possible police involvement if the breach constitutes criminal activity.
