Social Media Policy

1. Purpose

Ted's Cameras embraces social media as a business channel to conduct business and as a professional networking tool, as well as a social networking tool on a personal level. It is expected that social media will be used only for the purpose of administration, communication and research, where this relates to meeting the accountabilities of the users' role with Ted's Cameras .

Ted's Cameras encourages the use of social media, while at the same time making employees aware of their responsibilities and to ensure that the interests of Ted's Cameras are protected.

The purpose of this policy is to set parameters on the use of social media, whether part of your official responsibilities, or in a personal capacity, to limit Ted's Cameras 's risk exposure arising out of such use. This policy also includes the circumstances in which Ted's Cameras will monitor your use of social media and the action Ted's Cameras will take in respect to non-compliance / breaches of this policy.

This policy is in addition to and complements any existing or future policies regarding the use of technology, computers, email and the internet.

2. Scope

This policy applies to everyone who uses social media, including but not limited to all Ted's Cameras employees, contractors, consultants and temporary staff.

3. Definitions

Manager: Store Manager, Assistant Store Manager, Relief Manager, Line Manager

Social Media: can be defined as the use of online technology to enable people to communicate and share resources via the internet. This can include images, text, video, audio, and other multi-media communications. Social media includes a variety of tools and technologies to create on-line content and publish content. Social media sites and online platforms include but are not limited to: Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, Myspace, Flickr, You Tube, Instagram, Pinterest, Tumblr, Snapchat, blogs, and wikis. Social Media sites also include our internal platform, CONNECTED, and the social timeline functionality within.

Stakeholder: means a person or entity that is or was a client, supplier, employee or contractor in relation to the Company (or prospective client, supplier, employee or contractor in relation to the Company).

4. Responsibility

As an employee of Ted's Cameras you are expected to maintain the same high standards of behaviour online as you would expect elsewhere. You should always remember that you are an employee of Ted's Cameras and accordingly you are expected to present and support Company policies.

Employees must ensure that they have read, fully understand and abide by the Code of Conduct and the Acceptable Behaviour Policy.

The creation of social media or social networking activity must not interfere with your work commitments and Ted's Cameras 's IT resources should be used 'reasonably'. Social media is a permanent public communication, you must ensure it is factually correct and does not contravene this policy or any other Ted's Cameras policy.

Where it is possible to identify you as a Ted's Cameras employee you must expressly state that your views are your own and in no way, those of your employer.

5. Policy

This policy identifies the actions that Ted's Cameras considers to be acceptable. If you are unsure about acceptable usage you should ask your manager.

Appropriate Use

Ted's Cameras fully respects your privacy and associated legal rights. However, activities inside or outside of work hours using any online platform or social media that affect the Ted's Cameras 's business interests, brand and reputation, protection of confidential information, job performance of others and the employment relationship, in a negative, misleading and /or inappropriate manner could result in disciplinary action, including termination of employment, even where your accounts are set to private.

Please take into consideration your responsibilities as outlined in your employment contract (available from Human Resources) with regard to your obligations, policies and procedures, non-competition, intellectual property and confidential information. These responsibilities apply too when using online platforms.

Contravention of the Ted's Cameras Code of Conduct and Policies and Procedures, online and offline, may result in disciplinary action which includes possible termination of employment.

When using social media: use your discretion when posting photos or comments relating to the behaviour of your work colleagues; act responsibly; and comply with Ted's Cameras 's policies regarding, computer and IT use, equal opportunity, harassment and sexual harassment, workplace bullying, vilification, victimisation and confidentiality.

If in doubt, or you are unsure what constitutes appropriate use please contact your manager.

Post anything that may be misleading or deceptive.

Post content that may be interpreted as being posted by Ted's Cameras .

Make public comments to the media on behalf of Ted's Cameras .

Make comments to the media on behalf of Ted's Cameras .

Reveal the identity of suppliers, customers, co-workers or other Ted's Cameras employees.

Disclose confidential or privileged information which are subject to the conditions of your employment contract.

If you become aware of the unacceptable use of social media as described above, you must immediately notify Human Resources or your manager.

Reasonable social media use (use that does not breach the above prohibitions) is acceptable.

Confidentiality

It may be appropriate to talk about your work in an open forum, however you are not permitted to disclose confidential information related to Ted's Cameras . You must not record any information regarding your employment on any form of social media. You are permitted to use only publicly available information such as that on the Ted's Cameras website.

Privacy & Monitoring

You must ensure that you check your own profile settings and always be careful of what you post online. Do not post anything you do not want to become publicly known.

When you engage in social media activity using Ted's Cameras IT systems, or refer to Ted's Cameras or any stakeholders, IT support will collect and retain information about that activity, including content of any communications. The purpose of collecting this information is to ensure that the interests of your co- workers and Ted's Cameras 's reputation and business are not adversely affected by your conduct. The information will be kept secure and will only be disclosed to persons within the organisation as is necessary to ensure compliance with this policy.

Respect

Do not make comments online that may disparage Ted's Cameras , our clients, customer and workers in any way.

Misrepresentation

If you became aware of any misrepresentations made about Ted's Cameras online you may respond with the fact in accordance with the confidentiality clause in your employment contract.

Accessing Social Media at Work

Personal use of social media is permitted when you are using your own tools and in your own time (e.g. lunch break). Personal use must not interfere with your job commitments, and it must not interfere with your successfully carrying out your duties. Ted's Cameras reserves the right to monitor and block sites at its discretion.

IT Support will monitor employee internet usage to ensure that this access is not being abused in accordance with the Electronic Communications Policy.

Guidance for using social media in capacity

Working with social media in an official capacity for Ted's Cameras is subject to the same standards that apply in the physical work environment. These include:

Behaving honestly and with integrity.

Not providing false or misleading information in response to a request for information that is made for official purposes in connection with Ted's Cameras .

Dealing appropriately with information, recognising that some information needs to remain confidential.

Being apolitical, impartial, and confidential.

Delivering services fairly, effectively, impartially, and courteously to the public.

Behaving with respect and courtesy, and without harassment.

Taking reasonable steps to avoid conflicts of interest.

Making statements of fact about Ted's Cameras and its products and services, facts about already- public- information, or information on the Ted's Cameras website.

Breach Non-Compliance

A breach or non-compliance with this policy may result in actions including but not limited to:

Denial of access to Ted's Cameras 's electronic resources.

Disciplinary action, which may include counselling, a warning, suspension or dismissal.

Criminal prosecution by relevant authority.

This policy will be regularly reviewed in consultation with employees to ensure account is taken of any company and legislation changes.

Ted's Cameras seeks co-operation from all employees in maintaining this policy and are responsible for reporting any suspected breaches to their manager or Human Resources.

Complaints Procedure

If you have had a complaint about a post that has been placed on social media by an employee of Ted's Cameras please forward this in writing to Human Resources by email.

If the post is found (by Human Resources, Marketing Manager, National Operations Manager) to be in contravention of Ted's Cameras's Social Media Policy then appropriate disciplinary action will be taken.
